

Edward M. Lillion, PMP

Ed Lillion is a Principal Consultant for Provil & Associates (P&A), a Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania based project management services company, providing professional program/project management training, consulting and support.

Mr. Lillion possesses more than 8 years of professional project management as well as project planning & control functions experience spanning various disciplines, including aerospace, defense, engineering, medical, logistics, product development, and manufacturing. Over the past 8 years, he has specialized in preparing risk management plans, leading technical teams in various support tasks, and directing project teams to complete tasks within cost/time constraints while providing on-time deliverables that meet client requirements. Mr. Lillion currently provides continuing consulting and support to several P&A clients for the development, implementation, and operation of their Project Management Offices (PMO's).

Ed's project management instructor experience includes the development and presentation of superior quality seminars/workshops for Duquesne University's Center for Corporate & Executive Education.

While serving in the United States Air Force, Mr. Lillion prepared and presented numerous daily intelligence briefings to four-star generals and senior staff, supporting deployment of valuable military logistics assets to be efficiently postured across the world.

He holds a Bachelor of Arts in History from the University of Pittsburgh, and is a Certified Project Management Professional (PMP) by the Project Management Institute (PMI).

In addition to PMI, Ed retains membership in Pittsburgh Young Professionals (PYP) and Pittsburgh Urban Magnet Project (PUMP).
